SECTION 1 POLICY STATEMENT

1.1. Khalifa University of Science and Technology (KU) provides an institutional repository to store, index, disseminate and preserve the scholarly output of KU faculty, staff and students.

SECTION 2 SCOPE AND APPLICABILITY

2.1. The institutional repository aims to capture emerging unpublished scholarship of KU authors and to preserve and disseminate previous published works in a manner consisted with copyright law.

2.2. The work contained should be scholarly, educational, archival or research–based and merit long term preservation and dissemination.

SECTION 3 PURPOSE

3.1. This policy document establishes a framework within which the university's institutional repository is managed in order to capture, store, index and distribute university research output in a digital format, including, but not limited to, senior design project reports, senior honors theses, masters theses and doctoral dissertations, journal articles, books and other academic communication produced by the university's researchers, faculty and students.

SECTION 4 DEFINITIONS

The following definition(s) apply to this policy document:

4.1. Dspace: An open-source software application for institutional repositories.

4.2. Electronic Theses (eTheses): Electronic versions of theses produced toward Master's or Doctoral degrees.

4.3. Institutional Repository (IR): An online archive for collecting, preserving, and disseminating digital copies of the intellectual output of an institution, particularly a research institution. The development of an IR redefines the production and dissemination of scholarly material within an academic community.

4.4. Metadata: Structured information that describes, explains, locates or otherwise makes it easier to retrieve, use, or manage an information resource.

4.5. Pre-print: The version of paper or other proposed academic publication prior to peer-review.

The online version of this policy document is definitive.

4.6. Post-print: The finalized version of paper or other proposed academic publication, accepted for, but prior to, publication.

SECTION 5 PROVISIONS AND GUIDELINES

5.1. The institutional repository contains scholarly and research output of Khalifa University of Science and Technology (KU) (e.g., research or scholarly manuscripts written while the author is a student or staff member of the University).

5.2. The institutional repository hosts selected archival materials generated by KU entities that document the history and intellectual life of KU. The repository also contains digital collections created from the library archival holdings to support learning, teaching and research.

5.3. The repository accepts submission of the following types of materials:

- Journal articles (peer-reviewed)
- Book reviews
- Theses and dissertations
- Learning objects
- Conferences and workshop proceedings
- Books and book chapters
- Technical reports
- Other materials at the discretion of the repository administrators, the Library Committee, or academic leadership.

5.4. The final version of an eThesis, as approved through the Graduate School processes, will be the only version that is made available and/or preserved in our repository.

5.5. All material deposited in the institutional repository is subject to applicable copyright law. An author who is no longer the copyright owner must have the copyright holder's permission to make their material available in the institutional repository.

5.6. In administering the institutional repository, the library adheres to any availability restrictions laid down by the copyright holder and/or embargoes or other access restrictions approved by authorized institute staff or bodies as per the Thesis and Dissertation Guidelines (see ACA 3900 Publishing a Thesis or Dissertation).

5.7. Procedures related to the administration of the IR regarding availability and access, submission, retention and withdrawal, and updates are made available through the Library's Operations and Procedures Manual.

SECTION 6 RESPONSIBILITIES

6.1. The SVP Academic and Student Services is responsible for the implementation of this policy document and its provisions.

6.2. The library management has monitoring authority.

The online version of this policy document is definitive.
