SECTION 1 POLICY STATEMENT

1.1. The university library collects resources in multiple formats, including book, serial, audio visual, and electronic, contingent upon the library's ability to purchase and maintain these resources.

1.2. The focus of the university library collection is to support the University curriculum and scholarly research. The library also strives to provide a general knowledge collection to encourage lifelong learning and reading.

SECTION 2 SCOPE AND APPLICABILITY

2.1. This policy document is applicable to all students and employees of the university.

2.2. Course texts are not acquired for the general collection, although single copies may be selectively acquired for the reserve collection.

2.3. The policy provides guidance to library staff engaged in selection and to Acquisitions Librarian(s), who are fully responsible for collection development.

SECTION 3 PURPOSE

3.1. This policy document provides guidelines for establishing and describing the process of materials acquisition within set budget, selection, deselection, and accessibility to diverse collection of scholarly information. It also informs the public of the principles guiding our collection development.

3.2. The policy is an inclusive statement of aims rather than a description of existing collections. Implementation is dependent on the availability of resources.

3.3. The policy document provides information to faculty, suppliers and other users about the principles on which the collections are acquired, as well as forms the basis for future developments and modifications.

SECTION 4 DEFINITIONS

The following definition(s) apply to this policy document:

4.1. Acquisitions: The procedures involved in obtaining resource materials for the library's collections.

4.2. Back Issues: The issues of a periodical that precede the current issue. In the catalog record, the extent of the back file is indicated in the holdings statement.

4.3. Collection Development: The process of building and maintaining the library's collection.

The online version of this policy document is definitive.

4.4. Deselection/Weeding: The process of identifying materials for disposal, in compliance with the criteria defined by the Library.

4.5. Disposal: Permanent physical removal of materials from the library's collection, by planned destruction or transfer to another organization.

4.6. Holdings: All of the materials, in all formats, owned by the library, or with access provided to library users, in the case of databases and remote electronic resources.

4.7. Library Committee: A standing university committee appointed by the President.

4.8. Monograph/Book: A bibliographic item either complete in one part, or intended to be completed in a finite number of separate parts.

4.9. Preservation: The activities associated with maintaining the physical condition of library and archival materials for use, either in their original physical form or in some usable way.

4.10. Remote Access: Remote access occurs when a user logs into the library's online resources from a location which is off campus.

4.11. Reserve Collection: Any resource that a faculty member has requested to be placed at the public service area for students to be able to use for a short period of time. When not in use, items are kept in a non-public area. Items can be library materials or items owned by the faculty member. All items submitted must comply with all applicable UAE copyright laws (culture and law).

4.12. Serial/Periodical: A publication in any medium, issued in successive parts, bearing numerical or chronological designations and intended to be continued indefinitely.

4.13. Withdrawal: The process of removing a resource from the library collections. This may include removing physical items from the shelves, disposing of physical items, discontinuing electronic access and deleting details of online resources.

SECTION 5 PROVISIONS AND GUIDELINES

5.1. Collection Development Guidelines

5.1.1. The library collections will support the teaching, learning and research of Khalifa University of Science and Technology (KU) faculty, staff, and students.

5.1.2. The library purchases resources for the purpose of campus-wide use from its allocated budget. Expenditure is carefully monitored and maintained.

5.1.3. Recognizing the importance of a strong serials collection, an appropriate balance between monograph and serials expenditure is maintained.

5.1.4. All requests for new serials subscriptions must be submitted to the Library Committee for consideration and decision. Such requests will be accompanied by supporting documentation underlying the rationale for inclusion in the collection or provision of electronic access.

5.1.5. In support of all locations, the library purchases multiple copies of essential and recommended readings for placement at more than one library.

5.1.6. When purchasing multiple copies, the library management determines the upper limit of copies to acquire.

5.1.7. The Library Committee functions as an advisory board for the selection and deselection of library materials.

The online version of this policy document is definitive.

5.2. Selection

5.2.1. Library collections develop as a result of a partnership between the library staff and the KU community. Faculty are encouraged to recommend titles for purchase in their areas of expertise. Students, or staff may recommended materials for purchase.

5.2.2. Material selected for the collection should principally support KU teaching, learning, and research.

5.2.3. Order requests to purchase materials is reviewed by the Acquisitions Librarian(s) before ordering.

5.2.4. Electronic books are only purchased in stable established formats or platforms not requiring special hardware to operate.

5.3. Exclusions

5.3.1. The library does not purchase or collect material that is not consistent with UAE law or culture.

5.4. Donations

5.4.1. Materials in good condition that are appropriate for the library's mission may be accepted with approval of the Acquisition Librarian.

5.4.2. No special arrangements are assured for housing, retaining or displaying gifts. The library's selection and weeding principles apply to gifts in the same manner as they apply to purchase selections. If unsolicited materials are mailed, dropped off or otherwise delivered to the library, we reserve the right to use or dispose of such materials in any manner.

5.4.3. Items not added to the library's collection may be destroyed, distributed, or offered as free items during a library event or program.

5.5. Deselection and Storage

5.5.1. Library staff are responsible for conducting ongoing evaluation to maintain the quality of the collection. Items that are severely damaged, outdated, no longer needed or do not contribute to the library's mission will be removed.

5.5.2. Discarded items are removed from the library's records.

5.5.3. Superseded editions are generally withdrawn unless they continue to provide valuable, relevant information.

5.5.4. Usage statistics for items should be considered when making decisions about deselection.

5.6. Replacements

5.6.1. Replacement should be considered in conjunction with deselection. The library does not automatically replace resources.

5.6.2. The following factors are considered for replacement: existence of adequate coverage in the collection; cost of replacement (whether in-print or out-of-print); demand for the specific title or subject; and availability of newer or better materials on the subject.

5.7. Preservation

5.7.1. Damaged items are repaired, replaced, or withdrawn without replacement in accordance with the deselection procedure of the Library.

The online version of this policy document is definitive.
