Challenges:

1. The communication dept. was late to lunch our campaign for CE. and the 2022 season was lost, it took more than 3 months to be included on the website.
2. Long procedures to get the approvals in the system are delayed to pay the dues of academics(4 to 6) months, which leads to their unwillingness to join the training program.
3. The Corona period stopped all training budgets at the departmental level, although we communicated with more than one side without a result.
4. The high price of our training programs has reduced the opportunity for some entities to sign with us.
5. The lack of promotional offers and free invitations to those interested in our courses was few.
6. The training courses are mostly in English and are considered a challenge for employees of government agencies, which reduces the chance of contracting with them.

Recommendations:

1. Add in the O. chart a specialized position in marketing and media campaigns.
2. Government Depts. require more Arabic lessons, so preparing competitive offers in Arabic and English to be presented.
3. Modifying the approval system and delegating the level of authority facilitates the daily operation process.
4. Reconsidering prices and comparing them with the local market will increase the opportunity for contracting.
5. Encouraging Arab academics to offer their courses in both languages will also increase the opportunity.
6. Allocating a budget for promotional campaigns and some gifts with souvenirs during site visits and getting to know government agencies.
7. Adding specialized jobs, visits, and promotion of marketing campaigns will help increase the number of customers.
8. Classifying and diversity of training programs according to the needs of the market with some free programs as a promotion will contribute to accepting offers.
